

COULD LETS DOWN THE DENVER BARS

Gateway Opened to the Union Pacific on Westbound Freight.

TO UTAH POINTS ON R. G. W.

Interesting Developments Are Now Looked Forward to on Part of Other Lines.

After a long siege the Denver and Rio Grande has at last consented to let down the bars of the Denver gateway as far as the Union Pacific is concerned and the first consignment from the Union Pacific for Utah points will arrive over the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western within a few days. Although the local officials all plead ignorance of any such move, the "News" is in a position to state that such has been done under an agreement between the Harriman and Gould lines.

Word comes from Denver to the effect that the gateway was opened a few days ago to all westbound Union Pacific business on the same basis as that which has been enjoyed by the Burlington, Rock Island, Santa Fe and Missouri Pacific to Utah points and points on the Denver & Rio Grande.

While there has been an agreement existing between the Missouri Pacific and the Union Pacific for some time back whereby the Gould line hauled to Pueblo where a transfer was made to the Colorado & Southern to Denver thence the Utah business could be shipped via the Union Pacific, this has not been generally known and little used. Now that Gould has let down the bars to his old rival on Colorado and Utah business some interesting developments are looked for. The question is, what now arises is whether or not the Santa Fe, Burlington, Rock Island and other lines will not retaliate and bring pressure to bear on the Union Pacific so that that system will allow them to route Utah business from Denver. In this case the first stage will be worse than the last.

The outcome will be watched with interest by those interested in railroad matters in this intermountain region.

IT WAS AWFUL.

Big New Compound on O. S. L. Whistles for 42 Miles.

John McManis tells the best story we have heard this year, says the Pocatello Tribune. The engine pulling No. 5, due here at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, broke its whistle just as it was pulling out of Beckwith, Wyo., and broke it in such a manner that it kept rattling on whistling all the time. It couldn't be shut off and although Engineer Brady tried every expedient, it was no use. The whistle kept right on screaming at the top of its voice. Steam had to be kept up to keep the train moving and the whistle kept right on howling for the whole 42 miles from Beckwith to Montpelier. The passengers were much disturbed but McManis assured them that all was well and that the whistle was blowing to keep the population off the track. When Montpelier was reached the engine was taken to the round house still screaming like a stuck pig and it only quit when the engine died. The engine was the No. 805, one of the new compounds.

320 CARS OF CATTLE.

Oregon Short Line Secures a Record Shipment of Live Stock.

Next week the Oregon Short Line will commence to move 12,000 head of cattle from Oregon points to the grazing grounds in Montana. This movement in these days comes nearly being a record and will require the pressing into service of about 320 livestock cars for the purpose.

The cattle are the property of M. K. Parsons and Hanaue and of this city. Owing to the fact that Mr. Parsons is not in the city, and when seen this afternoon Mr. Hanaue said that he had nothing to give out at this time regarding the matter, it could not be ascertained whether the stock was a recent purchase or not.

Railroad Baseball Challenge.

The following letter was this morning addressed to the Short Line employees on the fifth and sixth floors, which is self-explanatory:

Dear Captain:—We, the undersigned, understand you are going to glory (not Old Glory), in baseball circles, and if so, we, your co-laborers of the fourth floor medical department on the third floor included, do hereby, with good intent, challenge you to a trial of the national sport, with the provision that you are to make an exception to your rule, that is, shu guards, chest protectors, and two large gloves to each player are to be disregarded, although we will allow our players to wear good felt hats to assist them in holding the bat. Now, if you mean business or other guff or fifty to a hundred—just drop a note to the undersigned, and we will at once go on training, giving you the benefit of our trial in the past.

Either accept this challenge at once, or be forever barred.

W. S. Anderson, H. Coulam, Jr., H. Clark, H. W. Hinnman, L. Holmes, L. M. Barnes, E. E. Stimpson, P. H. Knickerbocker, Orvin Morris.

Vacation Rates.

Tomorrow the special rates for the vacation season will go into effect on the Rio Grande Western, when there will be a big slash in the usual fares to Castilla, Heber, Provo, canyon resorts, Hot Pots, Brighton and the Parley's canyon summer camps.

SPRIKE AND RAIL.

The first lower berth to be sold on the Southern Pacific westbound for nearly a month past at the Main street ticket office was booked this morning. Everyone reserving here for some time past has had to take an upper on account of the heavy travel.

Acting Traffic Manager T. M. Schumacher of the Oregon Short Line has gone north. He is expected to return on Monday, when he will go on to Chicago.

The Oregon Short Line will run a special to Logan on Monday at 4 p. m. on occasion of the visit of the Salt Lake Opera company. The special rate of $2.50 has been put in, tickets good returning until Wednesday.

ON MEMORIAL DAY

By JOE LINCOLN

Copyright, 1902, by Joe Lincoln

"Boom! Boom! Boom!"
The thud of the muffled drum;
And down the street, to its solemn beat,
Slowly the veterans come.
On 'neath the swaying elms,
In at the churchyard gate,
To where the dead, in their grassy bed,
Their marching comrades wait.

"Boom! Boom! Boom!"
And the captain's step is slow,
And the brows are lined in the ranks behind,
And the heads are white as snow;
And the hand that bore the gun
Now carries the wreath and rose.
But, under the rim of the slouched hat's brim,
Ah, what are the dreams? Who knows?

"Boom! Boom! Boom!"
Perchance they are young once more,
And the saddened hum of the muffled drum
Is changed to the cannon's roar;
And the grass beneath their feet
Is riddled and splashed with red,
And the demon yell of the bursting shell
Is tearing the air o'erhead.

"Boom! Boom! Boom!"
It is but a dream, thank God!
And this march today is the debt they pay
The heroes under the sod.
And e'en as the soldier's grave
Is hid with the fairest flowers,
So peace and love are entwined above
Dead hate in this land of ours.

"Boom! Boom! Boom!"
Hats off! They are marching past;
And the deeds they dared and the fame they shared
Shall live while the world shall last.
But their guns may empty lie,
And their swords forever rust,
For from Gulf to Maine, o'er mount and plain,
Rule brotherly love and trust.

YOUNG LADIES ARE IN SESSION

Large Attendance at the M. I. A. Conference.

CHANGES WILL BE MADE.

The Two Associations Will Meet Conjointly Hereafter—Young Men To Meet in the Autumn.

Friday morning at 10 o'clock the opening session of the general conference of this organization met in the Fourteenth ward assembly hall.

After the usual opening exercises, Pres. Elmina S. Taylor welcomed the visiting delegates. She expressed gratitude to our kind Heavenly Father for the privilege of attending this conference. She was absent last conference, but was strong enough now to walk from her own home to the place of meeting; and she felt that the result of the faith and prayers of the girls who had been so loving and generous in their attitude towards herself as well as the other members of the board. She spoke affectionately of the various labors and character of the various women associated with her, in the board. She closed with a warm invitation for all to feel at home and to enjoy to the full the conference which was before them.

Reports from some of the most distant states were called for, and in response, Sister Smith of Snowflake Stake in Arizona, Sister Mary E. Freeman of St. John's Stake, also in Arizona, reported their stake.

A quartet by Sisters Helen Boyne, Afton Paul, Hazel Calder, Priscilla Paul, was beautifully rendered.

A quartet by Sisters Helen Boyne, Mary were given by Sister Ruth M. Fox, who is the chairman of that committee.

Valuable suggestions about the dime fund were given by Pres. E. S. Taylor; she also told those present about the Woman's building, which was to be erected and to be one of the finest buildings in the world. There is to be a memorial building to the Prophet Joseph Smith on the Deseret News block; here, every organization will have its headquarters. And you will all be proud and happy with your future home, a grand organization. The speaker closed with an earnest appeal for the girls, every where to continue their efforts to raise subscriptions for the women's building fund.

There would be a Free conference that would be held at the M. I. A. building at the Templeton building at noon tomorrow. All interested are invited.

Announcement of the M. I. A. entertainment to be held at the Bee Hive was made by Sister Ann M. Cannon.

Two meetings of this conference will be held tomorrow at 10 and at 2 o'clock in this hall. All are invited. No meeting is to be held this morning.

After singing the benediction was pronounced by Sister Mattie Horne Tingley.

The second meeting of the Y. L. M. I. A. convened Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

After the usual opening exercises Pres. E. S. Taylor called on a few of the sympathetic way, and told the sisters present that it had been decided to ported many interesting matters. Among other things the recent discovery in caves and mounds in that region demonstrated in many interesting ways the truth of the Book of Mormon.

Pres. E. S. Taylor made a new suggestion for future guidance, she said that from this time every Stake should arrange to pay the expenses of one delegate to every yearly conference, unless, indeed, the representative was amply able to bear her own expenses.

A solo was sung with much feeling and sympathy by Miss Sarah Patten. Sister Gustavson from the St. Joseph Stake, Sister Hubbard of Maricopa Stake, Sister Dailley of Parowan Stake, all made favorable reports.

Elder Dore came from the Young Men's association, who were then in session, with a letter from them as to future conferences. Their plan is to hold no more conjoint conferences after this summer; the ones already planned will be held as usual.

After the Young Men will hold yearly conventions in the month of September, with their various stake organizations. The place of the summer conjoint conference, it is proposed, that wherever possible or practicable conferences be held in the winter months.

A report from the history committee was made by Sister Susa Y. Gates, explaining the cause of the delay in the presentation of this work; the writer had been called away for the winter, and had but lately returned. The work was now going forward rapidly.

A report from the guide committee was also given; it was decided to prepare lessons from the Doctrine and Covenants for the winter work. Also a set of lessons would be given on the properties and usages of good society. The topics to be treated were:

- 1—Dress.
- 2—Home.
- 3—Visitors in the Home.
- 4—Art of Entertaining.
- 5—Shopping.
- 6—Summer Outings.
- 7—Suggestions to Travelers.
- 8—Ballroom Etiquette.
- 9—Decorum in Religious Gatherings.
- 10—Proper Street Deportment.
- 11—Social Obligations to Young Men.
- 12—Courtesy in Organization.

Sister Lee Pefer of Panguitch stake reported her stake.

turn the meeting over to bearing testimonies. Sister Maria Young Douglass followed with some earnest remarks and then invited all present to speak as they felt impressed.

Many testimonies were borne by sisters from nearly every stake in Zion. Sister Alice Kimball Smith bore a beautiful and eloquent testimony. Compared the structure of our associations to a building where all materials are needed. The strong, the rough, the polished, the beautiful, the weak and the small; all are there if we are true to our trust, we shall fit into the niche and corner where we belong. And the whole shall be a perfect abode for the Spirit of the Lord.

Others followed, among them, Sister Dalley, Longhurst, Ried, Zabriskie, Sampson, Essie Clawson, Sister Gray, Hendrickson and Holt. Sister Adella W. Eardley told a story of three men who each had desired to be something other than that which circumstances had forced upon them. One wanted to be a literary man, one an artist and the last a physician. The literary man said he felt as if his untold desires and ambitions were like some beautiful clothes which were packed them in a trunk not to put on till we reach the end of our journey. So we put away our darling hopes waiting to wear them when we get to the other side. She then referred to the influence a mother has on the characters of the boys. Be kind and patient and loving with them always. Assured the girls that the influence of every stake and every girl in Zion is very dear to the members of the general board.

Sister Rose Jarvis, of St. George, told of the intelligent labors of the girls in the stake, one feature of their work was to send out the various missions in the world their old journals, and in that hundreds of these magazines were distributed to the inquiring people of the world.

They obtained lists of names from returned missionaries, and from every direction they had heard of the good results of this labor.

Sister Emma Goddard referred to the desirability of filling in the space in our blank books which read "correspondence," with the report of such work as is being done in St. George stake. This corresponding with girls in the world is also carried on by other stakes and should be so reported on the blanks.

Sister Mary Freeze wished to give one thought to those present; we are not servants, we are masters. Not evil, out good, for our heart responds to every noble and beautiful sentiment expressed this morning.

After singing, Sister Augusta W. Grant dismissed the meeting.

PUEBLO FLOOD.

Some of the Exciting Incidents That Were Connected With It.

Special Correspondence.

Pueblo, Colo., May 26.—You have doubtless obtained by press dispatches news of the flood originating some 30 miles above here and passing through this city into the Arkansas river. News came several hours ahead of the flood and was speedily sent to people living along the old channel known as the Fountain down which the flood was coming. The channel was nearly dry and has not had much water in it for several years. People had begun to erect temporary buildings close to its banks also laboring people had pitched tents to use as dwellings. For 15 years the stream, which is never filled except by freshets, had not filled to the level of the low banks. There were three families of the Saints living in these temporary houses namely those of W. D. Cummings, H. E. Cummings, J. Simons and a Brother Green and family

Where there's Ayer's there's hope

Never give up. Even if you have been trying a Sarsaparilla and have not improved. It's not the slightest reason why "Ayer's" will not cure you. "Ayer's" is not like any other Sarsaparilla. Doctors know this. They have our formula. That's why they always recommend "Ayer's" in preference to every other kind. It's the oldest, safest, strongest, best.

"Your Sarsaparilla has done me a great deal of good, purifying my blood and giving me strength and a general invigoration of the whole body. I know it is the best blood-cleanser, and it has done me a wonderful sight of good."

occupied a tent. Notwithstanding the warning they did not feel seriously alarmed, thinking the water would not rise high enough to reach their homes. But the mighty torrent struck the town at about 6 p. m. and quickly passed its deadly ranks far beyond what it had ever been known to do. Mrs. Della Cummings, wife of W. D. Cummings, was in bed with a baby eight days old. She was carried by her husband and Elder H. W. Merrill wading through the water, to a neighbor's on higher ground. At this writing, 11 p. m., she is feeling quite well. Mr. Green, who was ill, was prostrated by the shock for a time but revived again. All the families will sustain some loss but not serious. The water is subsiding now. Floating logs against the Colorado Southern bridge at Fourth street, held back the water until the pressure carried out one span. The Eighth street depot and truck of the D. & R. G. was submerged and the wagon engine damaged. The torrent, about 300 feet wide as I viewed it, reminded me of the Missouri river. Until three weeks ago the Elders had occupied a room in Bro. W. D. Cummings' home and a trunk belonging to Elder Merrill was still there. He will sustain some loss. What the general loss to the public is cannot be learned at this writing.

CORNER STONE SERVICES.

Twenty-first Ward Will Hold Them Tomorrow Morning.

Special services will be held tomorrow morning (Sunday) commencing at 10 o'clock, and the cornerstone of the new Twenty-first ward chapel will be laid by Bishop M. S. Woolley. An address will be delivered by Hon. Wm. H. King and suitable musical exercises will be rendered by the ward choir, Sunday school children and the Apollo Glee club.

Excellent arrangements have been made for the accommodation of all who will attend and a cordial invitation is extended to the public generally. The services will be held on First street between J and K streets.

WILL REBUILD HOTEL.

Register J. N. Sharp of the land office at Hallett, Ida., is at the Cullen. He says the Hot Springs hotel that burned down a few years ago is to be rebuilt on the same site. It will be a 40-room house to cost about $15,000. Col. Sharp is skeptical about Thunder Mountain being such an El Dorado. He is in the low grade, and a great deal of it below $10. He says the Hallett mineral belt has been panning out remarkably well of late.

ROBBED OF $65.

MR. BEAN RETURNS.

Author of "Corianton" Says Everything is Moving Satisfactorily.

Mr. U. O. Bean, author of "Corianton," arrived this morning from New York and will remain in the city until the production of the play during August. He states that everything on the eastern end is moving satisfactorily, the costumes now being in the hands of Wannamaker, the scenic artist who prepared the scenery for "Ben Hur," being at work on the various scenes, and Mr. J. H. Lewis, the stage manager, engaged to handle and cast the production, being expected to arrive here during the middle of June. Mr. Blair, the business manager of the enterprise, goes east today to bring back the various people engaged, of whom Mr. Joseph Haworth and Miss Agnes Rose Lane are the leaders. The company has been regularly incorporated and a list of its officers has already appeared in the "News."

DEPUTY COLLECTOR HILTON.

The announcement of the appointment of Ex-Chief of Police Hilton as a deputy in the office of Revenue Collector Callister will be received with much satisfaction among his many friends. Callister announced today that he had been allowed an additional deputy in his office during the busy season, lasting for the next three or four months, and that he had appointed Thomas H. Hilton to fill the position. Mr. Hilton will enter upon his new duties on Monday morning and his many friends wish him success in his new position.

RECEPTION AT BEE HIVE.

Historic House Is Thronged by Mutual Improvement Workers.

Last night the annual reception was tendered the officers of the Y. M. & Y. L. M. I. A. by the members of the general board at the Bee Hive house. There were over 500 people present and the consensus of opinion was that it was one of the most if not the most enjoyable function of the kind yet held. The Bee Hive was tastefully decorated for the occasion, both inside and out, with flowers and banners bearing the national colors. The east lawn looked particularly attractive, lighted up with strings of incandescent festooned over a smooth board floor that was utilized to advantage during the evening by those who had a desire to dance. The first part of the evening was devoted to a fine musical and literary program and the latter to social intercourse, dancing and the partaking of toothsome refreshments.

Among those who took part on the program were, Miss Lottie Owen, who sang a solo; Mrs. Bassett, who also rendered a solo; Miss Vida Fox, who recited; B. S. Young, who gave two or three humorous readings and Messrs. Margretts and Clawson, who convulsed the audience with their comicallies, and a recitation by Mrs. M. H. Tingley.

Happy remarks were made by Pres. A. H. Lund, Apostle H. J. Grant and Elder Joseph E. Taylor. A fraternal spirit prevailed and Pres. Joseph P. Smith proved himself to be a very thoughtful and genial host.

PROTECT YOUR BOOKS!

They're too valuable to be strewn about the room or house exposed to dust and damage! Of course you can't help it, if your book-case is full and of the old style solid construction. Better get rid of such a case, or start a new one that will always accommodate your books without being either too large or too small—one that grows with your library and always fits it.

Slobo-Wernicke

"Elastic" Book-Case

Is the original and only up-to-date sectional book-case and is made by the largest manufacturers of such goods in the world. It's furnished in a variety of grades, sizes and prices, adapted to any and all requirements. It's a system of units, each unit fitted with the perfect construction, proof, roller-bearing door. and prices are tending higher. It is claimed that it will soon be necessary to draw on the great forests in British Columbia, owing to the rapid depletion of the American forests.

Commission men state that at a recent meeting of millers in this city it was proposed to cut prices on bran, because of a three car shipment being made from McCammon to this city, and to raise the price of flour sufficiently to offset the bran reduction. The motion did not prevail.

Mr. Zimmerman says the size of the Held's Liberty park concert band will depend upon the support given the enterprise by the public, and if there is a generous support the number of men will be increased to 45. One strong source of support Mr. Zimmerman expects from a liberal patronage of the program in advertising.

Henry Tauber, a local florist, sent a wagon load of flowers for sale at the city cemetery yesterday, and a deputy sheriff prevented the man from disposing of them without previously getting a license. Mr. Tauber proposes to ascertain by what right that deputy shut off his man from selling flowers, and whether there is a special law forbidding sale of flowers in the city cemetery without taking out a special license.

Dean H. Martyn Hart of St. John's cathedral in Denver will be in this city Sunday, June 8, to preach the graduation sermon before the graduating class of Rowland Hall, in St. Mark's cathedral. In the afternoon the dean will speak before the Y. M. C. A. and Secretary Axton has secured a large hall in the association building to accommodate the crowd that will be sure to attend.

Miss Bertha Welley was delightfully surprised by a number of her friends Friday evening. Cards and games were played after which delicious refreshments were served in the dining room. Mr. Anderson furnished music and all present danced on the lawn. Those present were: The Misses Anderson, Frankland, Arnold, Tate, Howarth, Brown, Bull and Holmes; Messrs. T. Smith, Geo. Trayner, A. Mortensen, Wm. Flowers, T. Taylor, J. Kingston, A. Derbyshire, R. Frankland, E. Brazier and F. Hech.

Judge Hallett of Denver, will improve his week-end by reaching the city just east of the old Metropolitan hotel, by erecting on two of the lots a one story building to accommodate five stores.

George F. Smith, of Grand Junction, is in the city to receive at the Union Stock yards two car loads of cattle on the 5th and 5th prox. J. B. Killian of Delta, Colo., is also here to receive one train load at the stock yards; both consignments coming from M. K. Parsons of Nevada and destined for summer feedings at the western Colorado ranges. Prices at the range remain about the same as last year.
